

Aviation – Tales in Two Scales

The South Yorkshire Aircraft Museum is pleased to present an evening talk by former Royal Air Force Hawker Hunter pilot and Air Traffic Controller – and self professed Grumpy Old Modeller..!

Mike McEvoy

Join Mike for the evening as he relates his experiences flying with the RAF and his subsequent time in Air Traffic Control, as well as a lifetime's interest in aviation and, particularly, in model making.

The event will take place at the Museum's AEROVENTURE home, in Doncaster on Saturday 13th September, 2008, at 7.00p.m.

Tickets can be reserved by calling the Museum on 01302 761616

Ticket price £7.50

Please note that pre-booking is advisable as seating is limited to 55 places
